POLICY GUIDELINES, PRINCIPLES AND PROCEDURES ON CHILD SAFEGUARDING AND PROTECTION

AT CENTRO PER LO SVILUPPO CREATIVO “DANILO DOLCI”

Version: October 2026

INTRODUCTION

The present document is annexed to the Code of conduct of Centro per lo Sviluppo creativo "Danilo Dolci" (Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci", hereinafter referred to as "the Centre"). The document represents Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" policy, principles and procedures regulating child safeguarding and protection measures taken by staff members of the Centre within the undertaking of their professional roles. It applies to all activities, programmes, and interactions involving children, whether conducted in person, online, or in hybrid settings.

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" affirms its belief in the rights of all children, including the right to be protected from all forms of violence, abuse, neglect and exploitation and to develop to their full potential, be healthy and happy, as set out in the 1989 UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and in the Council of Europe Convention on Protection of Children against Sexual Exploitation and Sexual Abuse (Lanzarote Convention, 2007).

Children with whom the Centre's staff, volunteers, interns, external collaborators, and associates come in contact will be assured the rights expressed in the UNCRC. This policy applies equally to all children, regardless of gender, age, disability, ethnicity, nationality, religion, sexual orientation, socio-economic background, or any other status. Through its work, the Centre aligns with the EU Strategy for the rights of the child and promotes action to support children's participation in political and democratic life, their economic and social inclusion, their right to health and to education, providing equal opportunities to all children, to prevent violence against children and to protect them from violence, to promote a justice system that responds to the needs of children, to promote a safe digital experience for all children, and to support children globally.

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" takes the prevention of child abuse very seriously. The Centre understands that child abuse and inappropriate contact with children is a pervasive problem throughout the world that must be managed proactively. Therefore, the writing of this policy shows the commitment to taking proactive steps to safeguard and protect children in the Centre's programmes, facilities, and networks, both online and offline. The Center adopts a zero-tolerance approach to any form of child abuse, exploitation, or harm.

The Centre is committed to making decisions and taking actions that are guided by the principle of the "best interest of the child". All safeguarding actions are informed by a child-centred, rights-based, and survivor-sensitive approach, ensuring confidentiality, dignity, and respect for children at all times.

The document counts six different sections which address:

1. definitions used in the policy and the Centre's work,
2. values and principles, which should be respected and promoted by all staff members,
3. screening and hiring practices at the Centre,
4. principles of conduct & procedures of staff in contact/working with children,
5. reporting procedures in case of any child abuse concerns staff members may have or suspect,
6. cooperation with other external organisations, networks, and agencies.

The Centre's Child Protection Policy is produced by the Child Protection Officer and approved by the Board of Directors. The document is evaluated against EU standards and practical experience and updated at least once a year.

1. DEFINITIONS

- Best Interest of the Child (BIC)

  A threefold concept: a right, a principle and a rule of procedure based on the assessment of all elements of a child's or children's interests in a specific situation both in the public and private sphere which must be determined on a case-by-case basis taking into consideration their personal context, situation and need.

  Accordingly, the concept of the best interests of the child is flexible and adaptable. It aims to ensure both the full and effective enjoyment of all the rights recognised in the 1989 UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) and the holistic development of the child. Its full application requires the development of a rights-based approach, engaging all actors to secure the holistic physical, psychological, moral and spiritual integrity of the child and promote his or her human dignity.[1]

- Child[2]

  Every human being below the age of eighteen years old.[3]

- Child-centred approach

  An approach used to make decisions regarding the life of a minor that acts in their best interest and involves collaboration with them and their family.[4]

- Child Protection

  The prevention and response to violence, exploitation, and abuse of children in all contexts.[5]

- Child Participation

  Is a fundamental principle that ensures that children, any person under the age of 18 years, individually or in groups, have the right, the means, the space, the opportunity and, where necessary, the support to freely express their views, to be heard and to contribute to decision making on matters affecting them, their views being given due weight in accordance with their age and maturity. In order to be able to participate meaningfully and genuinely, children and young people should be provided with all relevant information and offered adequate support for self-advocacy appropriate to their age and circumstances.[6]

- Child Safeguarding

  Preventative actions to ensure that all children are protected from deliberate or unintentional acts that lead to the risk of or actual harm.[7]

- Staff members

  Refers to paid staff, volunteers, interns, and external collaborators.

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" takes all measures to protect the child from all forms of child maltreatment and inappropriate behaviours. Child maltreatment is the abuse and neglect that occurs to children under 18 years of age. It includes all types of physical and/or emotional ill-treatment, sexual abuse, neglect, negligence and commercial or other exploitation, which results in actual or potential harm to the child's health, survival, development, or dignity in the context of a relationship of responsibility, trust, or power[8] both in the presence or through information technology.

Specifically, the Centre defines it but is not limited to the following:

For the purposes of the present policy, the following definitions apply:

- Abandoned or Unaccompanied Minor

  A child who is not accompanied by an adult legally responsible for him or her, including those traveling alone without custodial permission, those separated by an emergency, those in a refugee situation, and those who have been abandoned or otherwise left without any adult care[9].

- Child Abduction

  The crime of removing a child from its rightful home[10].

- Physical Child Abuse

  Physical abuse is an injury deliberately inflicted upon a child by any person, including adults.

Physical abuse includes fractured or broken bones, burns, severe and/or frequent bruises, and any other intentionally inflicted physical harm.[11]

- Child Emotional Abuse

  An act leading to a child repeatedly made to feel worthless, unloved, alone or scared. Instances include: continually ignoring or rejecting a child, physically or socially isolating a child, forcing a child to do things by scaring them, constantly criticising, humiliating or blaming a child, constantly swearing, yelling or screaming at a child, bullying, teasing, insulting or belittling a child, having unrealistic expectations or unreasonable demands of a child, not allowing a child to explore, express themselves, learn or make friends, treating a child badly because of things they can't change.[12]

- Child Sexual Abuse

  Any deliberate and unwanted act of a sexual nature, either completed or attempted, that is perpetrated against a child, including for exploitative purposes, and that results in or has a high likelihood of resulting in injury, pain or psychological suffering.[13]

- Child Pornography

  Any representation, by whatever means, of a child engaged in real or simulated explicit sexual activities or any representation of the sexual parts of a child for primarily sexual purposes.[14]

- Exploitation of Minors in Prostitution

  The use of a child in sexual activities for remuneration or any other form of consideration, such as goods, services, shelter, protection, favours, or any other benefit that the exploiter receives.

- (Child) Grooming

  An emotional connection built with a child to gain their trust for the purposes of sexual abuse, sexual exploitation or trafficking. Children and young people can be groomed online or face-to-face, by a stranger or by someone they know – for example, a family member, family member, friend or professional.[15]

- Bullying

  An unwanted, aggressive behaviour among school aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time.[16]

- Neglect or negligent treatment

  The failure to meet children's physical and psychological needs, protect them from danger, or obtain medical, birth registration or other services when those responsible for children's care have the means, knowledge and access to services to do so.[17]

- Child Exploitation

  An exploitation that includes child domestic work, child soldiers, the recruitment and involvement of children in armed conflict, sexual exploitation and pornography, the use of children for criminal activities including the sale and distribution of narcotics and the involvement of children in harmful or hazardous work.[18]

- Online sexual violence/ Cybersexual violence/ Technology-facilitated sexual violence

  Violence facilitated by and/or perpetrated through screens - ie, online platforms, websites and apps. It can take the form of physical, sexual, psychological, emotional or economic harm or suffering and may include the exploitation of the individual's circumstance, characteristics or vulnerabilities.

  Online sexual violence or Cybersexual violence or Technology-facilitated sexual violence (TFSV) refers to a range of behaviors where digital technologies are used to facilitate both virtual and face-to-face sexually based harms. Such behaviors can take many forms, among others: cyber-harassment and cyber-stalking; distributing sexual recordings; luring and online exploitation of minors by adults who establish contact with children over the Internet for the purpose of committing a sexual offence; online sexual assault; sextorsion; etc.[19]

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" is committed to the following values and principles, which should be respected and promoted by all its staff members:

- ✓ The Centre values and treats every person without discrimination of any kind, irrespective of the age, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinions, national, ethnic, or social origin, language, gender identity or sexual orientation, property, disability, birth or other status, with a special attention to the needs of children on the move.
- ✓ The Centre has a zero-tolerance policy towards any kind of inappropriate behaviour, violence or abuse including towards children.
- ✓ The Centre recognises the right of every child to be protected from harm and abuse stemming from inappropriate behaviours as defined in Section 1 of the present policy. The Organisation takes all necessary action to prevent any harm from being done against children and to report abuse against children on the above.
- ✓ The best interest of the child always comes first in the undertaking of our Organisation's activities.
- ✓ The Centre promotes the right of children to be heard, participate, and share their views in matters which affect them, and supports this approach in its activities.
- ✓ The Centre conducts all its activities, from project design, risk management to implementation ensuring the safeguarding of children plays a central role and according to child-centred and trauma-informed approaches.
- ✓ The Centre wishes to provide all necessary guidance to its staff members who work in close contact with children.

3. SCREENING AND HIRING PRACTICES

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" establishes and sustains proper hiring and selection practices, including completed applications, reference checks, criminal background checks, social security checks and documented personnel files, and includes specific reference to Child Protection in its Code of Conduct. All practices are designed to ensure the safety and well-being of children and to prevent the recruitment of individuals who may pose a risk to children.

3.1. Applications

- All prospective staff members will complete an application form to work or volunteer or intern that includes questions regarding past work history, volunteer experience, and education.
- All application forms will include a statement that the Centre has a zero-tolerance standard for any inappropriate behaviour, violence or abuse including towards children by staff members.
- All staff members who may be involved in working with children and young people, or who are deemed likely to come in contact with children in the fulfilment of their duties, will be requested to provide a certificate of their national criminal record, according to national legislation (Decreto del Presidente della Repubblica, 14 novembre 2002, n. 313 – specifically art. 25 bis). The Center will ensure that all collected certificates and sensitive documents are stored securely and accessed only by authorised staff.

3.2. Reference checks

Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" reserves the right to apply the following reference check procedures to any candidate applying for a post:

- Contacting references indicated by prospective staff members, including close family members to the applicant.
- Contacting previous employers/agencies to check if the prospective staff member is eligible for rehire, as well as to ask about the ability of the applicant to work with children.
- Verbally verifying written references via telephone or other means of contact.
- Researching a candidate online and checking for red flags for working with children (i.e. Google Search, any national sexual predator websites, and social networking sites).

3.3. Interviews

- Prospective staff members should be interviewed by at least two separate staff members. A ‘Realistic Job Preview’ or ‘Working Interview’ meets this requirement; it is important that the candidate is assessed by more than one staff member. During the interview, candidates, applying for the position that might involve contact with children, will be asked about their understanding of child protection, their experience working with children, and how they would respond to safeguarding concerns.
- All interviews will be documented on an association-approved interview form that ensures the consistency of the questions asked. The Centre interview evaluation forms may be used during the interview process.

3.4. Safe recruitment decisions

The Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" applies safe recruitment procedures to all staff, volunteers, interns and external collaborators whose roles involve, or may involve, contact with children. These procedures include application screening, interviews, reference checks and criminal record checks or their national equivalent, where permitted or required by applicable law. Interviews include questions about candidates’ experience working with children, their understanding of child safeguarding, and any previous concerns or allegations relating to their conduct towards children. Recruitment decisions take into account the results of these checks. Any unresolved safeguarding concerns are assessed before engagement, and individuals who present an unacceptable risk to children will not be recruited or assigned to child-related activities.

3.5. Probation and Ongoing Monitoring

All newly recruited staff, volunteers, and interns who will have contact with children will undergo a probation period during which their conduct and adherence to child protection principles will be closely monitored. Supervisors will provide guidance and feedback, and any concerns regarding behaviour, performance, or safeguarding will be addressed immediately. Ongoing monitoring, including periodic performance reviews, ensures that staff members continue to meet Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" standards for working safely with children throughout their employment or engagement.

4. PRINCIPLES OF CONDUCT & PROCEDURES OF STAFF IN CONTACT/WORKING WITH CHILDREN

The following principles apply when coming in contact or working with children conduct-wise:

4.1 Prohibited behaviours towards children

All staff members, volunteers, interns and external collaborators must refrain from any behaviour that harms, exploits, humiliates or places a child at risk. Prohibited behaviours include:

- Physical punishment, violence, threats, intimidation, humiliation, discrimination, bullying and/or degrading treatment.
- Any sexual activity, sexualised communication, inappropriate touching or sexual advances involving a child, as well as grooming, exploitation or abuse.
- Developing inappropriate personal or emotional relationships with children, including favouritism, secrecy or behaviour that crosses professional boundaries.
- Being alone with a child in circumstances that are avoidable and contrary to safeguarding procedures, or taking a child away from an authorised activity or setting without appropriate permission.
- Exchanging personal contact details or communicating privately with children through personal accounts or messaging channels outside authorised, transparent and safeguarding-compliant arrangements.
- Requesting, creating, possessing or sharing sexualised images or other inappropriate content involving children, or sharing identifiable images or personal information without the required authorisation.
- Ignoring, concealing or failing to report suspected abuse, exploitation, inappropriate behaviour or breaches of this Policy.

These expectations apply in person, online and in hybrid activities. Any concern or breach must be reported in accordance with Section 5. Breaches may result in protective measures, disciplinary action, termination of engagement and referral to the relevant authorities, as appropriate.

4.2. Compliance with Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" Code of Conduct & Child Protection Policy

- Before performing any work duties, staff members will sign and date a copy of the Code of Conduct of the Organisation, to which the Child Protection Policy is annexed. When changes or updates are made once a year, all staff members will be provided with the new version, which must be signed in acknowledgement and acceptance.

- The Code of Conduct will be maintained in the personnel file and is annexed to their employment contract.
- All external collaborators will be provided with the Child Protection Policy and the Code of Conduct if they work or may come in contact with children and young people of less than 18 years of age.
- The Child Protection Policy (CPP) and Code of Conduct are publicly available online at https://danilodolci.org/en/child-protection-policy/. Before any child-related activity under the project takes place, the relevant documents will be made accessible to all staff, external collaborators, participating children and their families, in an appropriate and understandable format. Staff and external collaborators involved in the activity must be informed of their safeguarding responsibilities before the activity begins.

4.3. Data protection mechanisms

The Code of Conduct includes the procedures for data collection and treatment of data about children and young people. Data privacy and protection issues shall comply with relevant EU rules (especially the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679.

For the correct handling of child-sensitive data, the following rules apply:

- Written Informed Consent: If personal data about minors needs to be collected, written informed consent will be sought from their parents/legal guardians. The data will be collected and used only for the specific purposes for which they are provided. Staff working with children and needing to collect personal data about children or young people shall refer to the Data Protection Policy of Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" and to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679. The Centre does not share the personal data provided with any other entity.
- Declaration of Confidentiality: Staff who may come in contact with the personal data of research participants is required to sign a declaration of confidentiality before engaging in research. The declaration of confidentiality is specific to each case/project.
- Disclosure of information: that identifies children who come in contact with our staff members and anyone having a role within the Centre, is restricted by the terms of international, European and Italian regulations and legislation. Written informed consent of the parents/legal guardians shall be specifically sought. In general terms and in accordance with Article 3 of the UNCRC[20], the best interests of the child will be the fundamental principle applied in all cases. This includes disclosing any type of information (including images) regarding the children we come in contact with, on any media, including printed, online or other.

Specifically, data, including images, of children are only collected if strictly necessary and foreseen as a specific activity of the Organisation or of a project that the Organisation implements. For instance, the Center collects declarations of participation and not attendance sheets when minors are involved in activities. Their use is therefore limited to the duration of the project, and the specific purpose for which they were provided and collected. Specific permission of the child's parents/legal guardians as well as the approval of the child will be sought by the staff of the Organisation implementing the activity, according to legalrequirements. Acquired images and data are stored on the local server of Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" and are accessible only by the staff who have the specific credentials and who have subscribed to the Code of Conduct. The data in the local server is protected by a password and cyber-protected against any kind of external access.

- Publications: All publications must comply with the Child Protection Policy, before being publicized or shared. No identifying information of children shall be published without prior consent from both the child (if reached the age of majority) and their parents/legal guardians.

4.4. Training on Child protection

The rules and expectations will be shared with each new staff member and will be regularly reinforced with existing ones. This will be done in new employee training, children's rights training, and the use of a comprehensive Code of Conduct. Specifically:

- All paid staff, volunteers and interns (at minimum, those working directly with children) will participate in a comprehensive child protection training and in further training throughout their employment period, which includes information on the Rights of the Children (UNCRC, Lanzarote Convention, National regulation), Communicating with Children, Children participation and best interest of the child, Sexual abuse, Prevention, Early Identification, Responding, Documenting, and Reporting. The training programmes are inspired by existing resources and are developed by building on the programmes already developed through our relevant projects.
- External collaborators who may come in contact with children in the fulfilment of their tasks as assigned by the Centre will participate in the same child protection training.

[20] United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. Available at: https://www.ohchr.org/en/instruments-mechanisms/instruments/convention-rights-child

5. REPORTING PROCEDURES

- All staff members and external collaborators have an obligation to report any child abuse concerns they may have or suspect both from internal staff and in an external context. This includes suspicions of neglect, exploitation, physical or sexual abuse, or any inappropriate behaviour towards children. Staff members will be instructed to report anything they notice regarding a gap between policies and practices. Staff members working with or coming in contact with children will also be instructed, through training, on the internal protocols to apply in case they suspect or have knowledge of a situation of child abuse depending on the type of context.
- Reporting of a suspected breach of the Code of Conduct, and specifically of the Child Protection Policy, follows a standard procedure, which includes a reporting form (annexed to the Code of Conduct and reported here under the Annex section).
- Reports will be treated confidentially and sensitively. The Child Protection Policy Officer at Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" who will evaluate the case depending on the perpetrator and the context taking place and either redirect the case to local support services or report further to Human Resources if deemed necessary. Child Protection Officer at Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" to this date:
    - Mr. Alberto Biondo, alberto.biondo@danilodolci.org
- Children and their families or caregivers may also raise concerns or complaints about a child's safety, treatment or any suspected breach of this Policy. They can contact the Child Protection Officer directly at alberto.biondo@danilodolci.org or use the reporting form available in the Annex. Concerns may also be raised verbally with a trusted Centre's for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" staff member, who must promptly refer them to the Child Protection Officer. Children will be informed of these options in age-appropriate, accessible language and supported to communicate in the way that best meets their needs. Reports will be handled sensitively and confidentially, without retaliation, and in the best interests of the child.
- Any member of staff found in breach of the Code of Conduct, or of the Child Protection Policy on which the code draws, will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Disciplinary action could be undertaken, including and up to termination of employment/cessation of the professional engagement with the Centre and referral to authorities. (depending on the case).

- Severe breaches must be reported externally as appropriate. The Center will follow mandatory reporting obligations and cooperate fully with authorities. Examples include: :
    - Local Authorities: Polizia di Stato; Carabinieri
    - Social Services for Minors – Sicily
- Additionally, the Centre will document all reports, actions taken, and outcomes to ensure accountability and facilitate internal learning to prevent future incidents.

6. COOPERATION WITH EXTERNAL ORGANISATIONS, NETWORKS AND AGENCIES

When coming in contact with external entities such as organizations, networks and/or agencies, Centre for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" will proceed as follows:

- For each new collaboration with external organizations, networks and/or agencies, the selection will take into account the child protection policies, history and practices of the entity.
- For each new collaboration with external organizations, networks and/or agencies, the selection will take into account the child protection history of the entity.
- The Centre reserves the right to conduct a reference check on the Partner's previous history related to child protection and its policies towards children.
- The Centre will not tolerate any impropriate communication towards children.
- A clear statement related to child protection and the zero-tolerance policy of the Centre in relation to child abuse and inappropriate behaviour shall be included in the form for entities wishing to become partners of the Centre on the Centre's website.
- The Centre must take serious action towards any partner convicted for child abuse during the implementation of its projects/programmes.
- Continuous monitoring of partners will be conducted throughout the duration of projects/programmes to ensure compliance with Centre's for Creative Development "Danilo Dolci" child protection standards.
